ANNUAL MEETING OF BLAIRMORE UNITED CHURCH

The annual congregational meeting of the Blairmore United Church was held in the church last night, Wednesday. The chair was occupied by the pastor, Rev. W. T. Young, while Mr. W. H. Chappell fulfilled his duties as secretary.

Reports were received from the various branches of the church and all proved very satisfactory indeed, and each showed progress in their several departments.

The election of the officers of the church for the coming year resulted in the following:

Sess-on Board: Mr. W. Howe, for three years; Mr. D. McPherson, for one year. Mr. D. R. McKay constitutes the other member of the session board, he having been elected last year to serve for three years. Mr. McKay was highly commended by the pastor for his untiring efforts during the past year.

Board of Steward: W. H. Chappell, J. R. Gresham, J. B. Harmer, J. R. Smith, L. P. Robert, W. G. Pearson, F. M. Thompson and W. Oliver.

Other officers and heads of the various departments will be appointed later by the session.

As a special item on the program, the Junior Choir, cup winners in the recent festival, gave two selections, which were greatly appreciated by the audience. During an interval of the above, a presentation was made by Miss Lena Fraser on behalf of the Junior Choir and Sunday School to Mr. Bob Dicken, leader of the church choir, the present being a handsome leather music fold. Mr. Dicken, who was very much taken by surprise, made a suitable reply.

Another pleasing item was a presentation of a bouquet of roses to Miss Madeleine Chardon, church organist, by Mrs. W. Howe, president of the Ladies' Aid, expressing the appreciation of the Church Board for the splendid service rendered by Miss Chardon.

Refreshments were served by the ladies of the church, which brought to a close one of the most successful annual meetings of the church.

WILSON-VANDUREN

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the United church manse on Monday evening, the contracting parties being Miss Nellie S. G. Vanduren, of Blairmore, and Mr. Robert Wilson, of Coleman. The bride was attended by Miss Katherine Davidson, of Coleman, while Mr. Henry Vanduren, brother of the bride, supported the groom. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. T. Young in the presence of a few immediate relatives and friends.

The young couple will reside at Coleman.

BOARD OF TRADE MEETING TONIGHT

The annual meeting of the Blairmore Board of Trade will be held tonight at 8 o'clock in the office of the Crows' Nest Pass Motors, when officers for the ensuing year will be elected and plans for the season, etc., formulated.

All members and others interested in the Board of Trade are urged to be present.

CANADA'S TRADE SHOWS INCREASE OF $42,000,000

OTTAWA, April 27.—The trade of Canada shows a gain of $42,000,000 during the year ended March, as compared with the year ended March, 1926. The export trade, however, is down slightly. In the past year the export total was $1,267,673,000, while during the same period ended March, 1926, the total was $1,325,537,000. Imports in 1926 were $1,030,000,000.

REGULAR MEETING OF COUNCIL

The regular meeting of the town council was held on Monday night, with Mayor Farmer and all members of the council present.

The minutes of previous meeting were adopted as read and a number of accounts were passed, for payment.

Several communications were dealt with, and the offer of Mrs. S. McGee for the purchase of lots 7 and 11 in block 4, plan 5109-J, Blairmore was accepted.

The matter of fencing the south side of the Protestant cemetery was considered, and upon motion by Councilors Ferguson and Morgan it was decided to fence the south side of the cemetery, same to include graves at present outside the fence. Also to erect a gate and stile, somewhat similar to that of the Catholic cemetery.

Morgan-McVey—That the cleaning up day for the town be the 15th day of May, and all yards and lanes must be cleaned up by that date. Anyone not complying with same will be prosecuted.

Morgan-Hamilton — That a sign board be placed at the east and west approaches to the town, placing a speed limit not to exceed 15 miles an hour.

McLAREN'S SAW MILL STARTS SAWING OPERATIONS

The local mill of the McLaren Lumber Co. started sawing operations on Friday last and anticipate a busy season. The lumber yard stocks have been very much depleted, good markets having been found for last season's output.

The operation of the mill will add considerably to business in Blairmore, as quite a number of men are employed and the pay checks will work through various avenues within the town.

NEW MACHINERY BEING IN- STALLED AT SUNBURST MINE

As a result of a recent visit of some of the directorate of the Sunburst coal mine here, considerable new machinery has arrived and is being installed, that will greatly facilitate the handling of the output of the mine. Sunburst coal has been finding a ready and increasing market and prospects are looking fairly bright for the future.

On To The North!

The development of Canada is entering, in fact has already entered a new phase and one which holds promise of adding enormously to the population, wealth, and economic strength of the Dominion. In all the provinces, with the exception of the Maritimes, the attention of governments and people are turned northwards.

The history of Canadian growth during the first half century of Confederation records development upon east and west lines, beginning with the acquisition by the newly-born Dominion of the Hudson's Bay Co. lands of the west and the building of the Canadian Pacific Railway; then came the construction of the Canadian Northern; and finally the projection of the National Transcontinental and Grand Trunk Pacific across the continent. Practically all traffic moved east and west, and in these western provinces a long roundabout journey was frequently necessary in order to travel from one place to another only a comparatively short distance apart on a north and south line.

As a result of this early and quite natural programme of development, Canada became as a country, so far as settlement and trade was concerned, a narrow strip stretching all the way from the Atlantic to the Pacific, but consisting of fewer people than are to be found in European countries which in area are smaller than Canadian provinces. Canada had length but it lacked depth, a condition which made for weakness as a national unit because of the great distances separating the people and leading to a too great diversity of interests, a lack of knowledge of the needs and problems of the different sections—Maritimes, Ontario and Quebec, the Prairie West, the Pacific slope—a resultant sectional rather than a national viewpoint. Always there existed the possibility of this thin thread snapping at some point.

It is, therefore, a matter of national satisfaction that Canada is now on the threshold of its second great development—a development northwards which will give the Dominion what it has hitherto lacked, depth as well as length. From all quarters, governmental, financial, manufacturing, comes the confident prediction that the next two or three decades will witness a complete transformation in this respect, and hardly a week passes that some new enterprise involving northern development is not reported.

Development works, financed by Canadian, British and United States capital and involving an investment of close upon one billion dollars, are under way in Quebec which will result in the establishment of great industrial plants, the employment of tens of thousands of men, the creation of new cities and towns, and an enormous expansion in the trade of the Dominion. These are practically all to the north of present settled areas.

In Ontario, the Provincial Government has decided to push construction of their railway through to James Bay, while throughout both old and new mining areas of Northern Ontario unprecedented activity in prospecting and development is in progress.

Manitoba has awakened to the potentialities of its vast northern territory and, as in Ontario and Quebec, the eyes and energies of the people are being focused on mineral and water-power development there with all that this must mean in industrial expansion. The business men of Winnipeg realize they can no longer depend for future growth upon being simply a wholesale and distributing centre for the west.

The age-old demand of the Prairie West for an outlet on Hudson Bay is at last being met by aggressive action and the last section to be built will, before many months, be completed. The latest discoveries in science and invention are being employed to expedite this work. Airplanes have for weeks been carrying men and supplies from the end of steel to Churchill, other airplanes will patrol the Hudson Straits, airplanes are being employed in survey work in northern Saskatchewan, as well as in northern Ontario. Important branch lines of railway are to be built in northern Saskatchewan to connect existing railways with the road to the Bay, while the Saskatchewan Government has appointed a young man's company to make expert inquiry into the whole subject of power development within the Province.

Alberta has pushed railways well into the north of that Province, and it is now known there exists a wealth of oil, mineral and other resources in those northern stretches, as well as vast tracts of fertile lands suitable for agriculture. Investigation is now to be made of the most suitable route for a railway from northern Alberta through British Columbia to the Pacific coast.

Canada has long had a young man's country, a land for the hardy and venturesome prospector and homesteader. It is a land which offers rich reward for the worker, the energetic pioneer. The possibilities which greeted the western pioneer of the early eighties are not wholly of the past; of the northern areas during the next few decades Canada's present and future exist in equal measure for the youth of today, and in the developments there citizens will find ample outlet for their ambitions and energy, coupled with that element of romance inseparable from the opening up of a new land. For Canada as a whole a large field for investment and constructive enterprise awaits.

Husbands Desert Wives

Possible Suffering Caused in Many Cases by These Deserter.
 The Montreal Star says editorially: "Possible suffering is caused by the tragedy of husbands deserting their wives and children. There has been a marked increase of this crime, and for some years past statistics compiled from court records, in our own city, demonstrate the sorrowful fact that fully 23 per cent. of the children placed in institutions of all kinds, and who are practically supported on charity, are 'chance' children who have been deserted by their fathers. And, think of it, in 24 per cent. of these desertion cases the mother was left ill. Here we have brutal cruelty on the part of husband and father."

Hungarian Partridges

Stock From Alberta Will Soon Be Released in Manitoba

The first ten pairs of Hungarian partridges to arrive through the instrumentalities of the Brandon Wild Birds' Protective Association (ordered from the game sanctuary of Benck, Leduc, Alberta), are being sent to the Poudre Farm, southeast of Douglas, to be taken care of in the season opens. This was done in the interests of the sports-loving community of the Prairie Provinces, it being hoped that the birds will increase greatly in numbers.

A VERY RELIABLE

HOME TREATMENT

How Weak, Run-Down People Can Obtain Relief

Among the many remedies offered for the maintenance of health and strength, there is none can compare with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Most ailments, from blood to poor, thin blood, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have a specific action on the blood, making it rich and pure. Through this richer blood the tissues of the body are better nourished, and the functions of the body better performed. Anemic sufferers, weak, languid and nervous people specially stand to benefit and strength through the use of this medicine. This was the experience of Mrs. John Armour, South Monaghan, Ont., who says: "I am one of the many thousands who have regained health through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I take this opportunity of saying a word in praise of this splendid medicine. Before beginning the use of this medicine I was pale and badly run down. I found it difficult to do my housework and was tired and breathless at the least exertion. I had tried several medicines without benefit, and finally decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Soon I began to feel better, sleep better, and eat better, and found my weight increasing. In a week I felt like a new person. I have since recommended the pills to others who have taken them with equally good results."

Try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for anaemia, rheumatism, neuralgia, nervousness. Take them as a tonic if you are not in the best physical condition and cultivate a resistance that will keep you well and strong. Get a box from the nearest drug store and begin this treatment now. The pills are sold by all medicine dealers or will be sent by mail at $1 a box by writing Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

French Women Honored

Four who Risked Lives to Save British Soldiers Receive Annuities

Four heroic French women who concealed British soldiers from the Germans for months and even years at the risk of their own lives, have received London's tribute of praise and gratitude at the Mansion House. Before a big assembly of British and French Staff Officers and subscribers to the fund raised in their behalf, the Lord Mayor presented to Misses Julie Baudhuin, Belmont-Gobert, Angèle Lespr and Louise Cardon annuity certificates and eliminated addresses setting forth Great Britain's acknowledgment of their devotion.

It was a ceremony which vividly recalled the World War, and it had a poignant climax when an English soldier suddenly knelt to kiss the shoes of Mme. Cardon who for thirteen months had concealed his son behind the German lines.

After all that time the son, Corporal Hull of the Eleventh Hussars, was detained in Germany. He and his mother and father, who had been sentenced to death, a sentence which later was commuted to twenty years of hard labor.

Her husband escaped only to lead an existence of great suffering and the armistice and then to die, a victim of his courage in helping to harbor the young soldier.

At the closing scene, when the Marsellaise crashed out in honor of the heroines of France, followed by the British national anthem, tears glistened in the eyes of all four women and few in the audience remained unaffected.

An interesting exhibit in the hall of the Mansion House was the famous oak wardrobe in which Mme. Belmont-Gobert hid Trooper Patrick Fowler of the Eleventh Hussars for more than three years.

To Visit Hudson Bay.

Hon. C. A. Dunning Will Make Tour Over Northern Route in July

Hon. C. A. Dunning, Minister of Railways; Major Graham Bell, Deputy Minister, and Frederick Palmer, chief consulting engineer, will visit Port Nelson and Fort Churchill on Hudson Bay in July of this summer.

The minister's party, including several engineers, will leave the present end of steel on the Hudson Bay Railway and proceed by canoe to Port Nelson. From there it is possible that the party may fly north to Churchill.

One of the seven passenger Fokker planes which have been operating in that district since early in the year. Two Fokkers have been moving men and supplies from the end of steel to Churchill for several weeks past. At the present time drills are at work in the Churchill harbor and by the time the minister's party arrives the necessary data for the engineering report will be available.

A Sensitive Camera

Can Photograph Objects at a Distance of 300 Miles

Distant objects invisible to the human eye now can be photographed by a camera perfected by the Army Air Service.

The secret lies in the special film, which is sensitive to light rays that do not register on the eye. It is pointed out that in time of war, a plane equipped with this camera could take perfect pictures of enemy positions while the plane itself would be far out of range and sight of anti-aircraft batteries.

An enemy fleet could be photographed 300 miles off shore. The device may be used against the rum fleet, for the position and name of each ship could be caught in a single picture taking in 300 square miles. It also has been suggested for forest patrol along for the exact location of fires.

Sold First Matches

Hundred Years Ago

Invention of English Chemist Brought Him Modest Income

The century of the match has just been observed in England. Many newspapers printed laudatory editorials on the match and its inventor, John Walker, a chemist of Stockton-on-Tees.

It is recorded in Walker's sales book that he sold a box of friction matches to John Hixon 100 years ago. Although what had been called friction matches but were really sticks, had been sold before, Walker's match was said to have been the first practical one. In two years Walker sold only 250 boxes of matches but after that the demand was great enough to furnish him a modest income.

Walker's box contained fifty matches and sold for a shilling. With it went a piece of sand paper.

Read-made Medicine.

You need no physician for ordinary ills when you have at hand a bottle of Dr. Minard's Electric Oil. For coughs, colds, sore throat, bronchial troubles, it is invaluable; for scalds, burns, bruises, sprains, it is unsurpassed; while for aches, sores and the like it is an unquestionable healer. It is not so vital a medicine as the use, and that will satisfy anyone as to its effectiveness.

Britain's Air Defence

Dangerous for Har to Fall Too Far Behind Other Nations

Public interest in aviation in this country is at a deplorably low ebb. It simply does not begin to compare with the interest taken in France and in Germany, and in the latter country especially civil aviation has developed to an extent which leaves us far behind. In part this may be accounted for by the smallness of these islands and the greater obstacles to commercial success, but it is manifestly dangerous for Great Britain to be so far behind, for an instructed public opinion is required if we are to maintain the number of air squadrons which are no less necessary for purposes of national defence than was the Navy in the days when the air was trackless.

GUM-DIPPING Builds Extra Miles

THE Firestone process of Gum-Dipping is one of the most important of the many Firestone contributions to more economical highway transportation.

By this process, every fiber of every cord is thoroughly saturated and insulated with rubber, minimizing friction and heat so destructive to tire life.

Of the cars of hundreds of thousands of motorists, in the day-in-and-day-out service of the largest truck, bus and taxi fleets, in the battle of tires on race tracks, Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires, because of their greater stamina, are delivering longer mileage with added safety and comfort.

The Firestone dealer in your locality sells and services these extra quality tires. Let him tell you of the trouble-free service that the Gum-Dipping process insures and how he can serve you better and save you money. See him today.

A Confederation Prize For Literature

Recognition For the Most Outstanding Book of the Year

A Confederation Prize for Literature, to be awarded annually to the author of the most outstanding Canadian Book of the year, has been suggested by the Canadian Authors' Association in connection with the celebration of Canada's sixtieth birthday.

The National Executive of the Authors' Association by a unanimous vote has memorialized the Prime Minister, suggesting the setting aside of one-tenth of the $250,000 Diamond Jubilee fund to endow the property such an annual prize for the encouragement of Canadian literature.

QUOTA LAWS ARE TO BE ENFORCED BY UNITED STATES

Washington.—Notice will shortly be given by the United States immigration authorities that after June 1 next residents of Canada born outside the Dominion who cross the border daily to work in the United States must conform to the immigration laws of this country. This means that those who obtained employment on the United States side of the border since the quota immigration laws went into effect must register under the quota of the year in which they first began working in the United States. Canadian workers in the United States will not be affected.

Commissioner Hull of the immigration department, made it clear that native Canadians would not be disturbed by any regulations issued. A statement is to be published shortly under which residents of Canada may cross the border daily to work on this side, but it will rather reaffirm the old law than set any new departure.

The Canadian legation has obtained assurance that everything will be done to accommodate non-native workers already engaged in the United States, and that reasonable time will be granted to all those to take out permits under the quota laws. It is understood that British born were living in border towns before 1920, when the quota system was adopted and therefore will not be required to apply for permits. Places may be found in the old quotas for those who have been working in the United States for years.

"We are going to make it as easy as we can for everybody," said Commissioner Hull.

Apparently the regulations are designed to prevent new settlers coming from Europe to Canada and working in the United States, rather than to affect those who have been living in Canadian border towns for some time.

All the World a Mirror

Sound of a Face is Flashed Across the Atlantic

London.—The latest accomplishment in the progress of science toward making all the world a mirror by means of television was announced recently. The "sound of a face" it was declared had been transmitted across the Atlantic.

J. L. Baird, the inventor of television, was the subject of the test. He sat before the television in London and the sound produced by his image was recorded in New York. The receiver reports that the receipt of the face flash "sounded like a scratch" and that all there was to it.

Baird plans to visit the United States in June and install a receiving machine which will turn the face sound into a picture of the face it sent.

May Test Old Agreement

Canadian-U.S. Visa Pact Interesting Immigration Men at Washington.—Immigration officials here were greatly interested in reports that the Chamber of Commerce at Windsor, Ont., had taken steps to develop through the Canadian government the validity of the Jay Treaty of 1794, under which Canadians might cross the boundary into the United States without passports or visas. A case involving similar questions was recently fought out in the courts by Canadian Indians who were given the right to move across the borders untroubled, and an appeal by the government in this case has been entered.

Expects to Win Wager

Toronto.—W. H. Chapman, age 77, who has walked nearly 10,000 miles since July, 1925, to win, he says, a $5,000 wager, passed through this city April 19. He has yet to cross the continent to comply with the rules of the wager. He started from Milwaukee and is now going to Cochrane, and expected to be in Vancouver and complete the round trip some time in the summer.

Canada Olympic Grant

Ottawa.—An appropriation of $20,000 has been made by the Canadian Government to defray the expenses of an athletic team which will be sent to the 1928 Olympic games. Officials anticipate that a squad of about thirty athletes will make the trip.

Well Known Horseman Killed

Captain Liddington, Victim of Horse-payne Wreck, Was Bringing Shipments of Horses West

Ottawa.—Captain J. Liddington, who was killed in the train wreck at Hornepayne, was an internationally known horseman. His father, Major Liddington, and himself were conducting a shipment of thoroughbreds from England and had been in Ottawa for several days where some of the horses were disposed of. Major Liddington took ill while here and is in the civil hospital.

The son, on Easter Monday, proceeded, assisted by helpers Tarnett, Buller, H. Baderly, and Patrick Broderick, all believed to have come from Thame, England, to load the remainder of the horses some 35, which were being taken to Winnipeg and Vancouver where they were to be sold.

Six of the horses in the shipment were sold while the party was here to Captain Jenkins, of Toronto. Joseph Gleason, of Ottawa, bought one, and eight were sold in New York. All the remainder of the shipment, except two, it is believed, were killed in the wreck.

The horses were believed to have all won races in the old country and was a valuable collection. Major Liddington and his son had planned on returning to England for another shipment in August.

Not Getting Fair Deal

Rural Schools Entitled to Experienced Teachers Opinion of Dr. Kerby

Edmonton.—"Rural school children are not getting a fair deal today," declared Dr. George W. Kerby, principal of Mount Royal College, Calgary, in an address before the convention of the Alberta Educational Association here. He deplored the tendency to train teachers for handling city schools, the sending of inexperienced teachers to country schools to gain experience and a lack of sympathy for rural schools.

"The average rural school trustee looks at the country school as a little building, where a little teacher teaches little things to little children for a little while at a little salary," declared Dr. Kerby. "There is need to consider the whole question of rural education, which is greater than the wheat pool or immigration problems."

Russian Trade

Improvement in Agriculture and Industries is Reported

Montreal.—A big British concern engaged in shipbuilding has approached the chief concession committee of the Union Soviet Socialist Republics offering $100,000,000 long term credits to build merchant ships for the Soviet, according to announcement made here by the trade delegation of the Union. The offer, it was stated, was now under consideration.

During the four months of the current fiscal year, beginning October, 1926, export trade of the U.S.S.R. reached $155,541,000, leaving a favorable trade balance of nearly $18,000,000. Trading was carried on principally with eastern countries. The Soviet representatives declared the population of Russia was now 148,895,000 and statistics showed a general improvement in agriculture and industries since the 1921 period of depression.

Another Royal Exhibit

Belgian Queen Antiquities Entry for Poultry Congress

Ottawa.—Still another member of a European royal family is to be an exhibitor at the world's poultry congress to be held in Ottawa from July 27 to August 4. Congress headquarters received word from Brussels that included in the Belgian national live bird exhibit would be a number of fowl the property of Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth of Belgium. The Belgian exhibit will consist of fowl, pigeons and rabbits.

Other royal exhibitors already announced are His Majesty King George, H.R.H. the Prince of Wales and H.R.H. the Prince of Asturias, heir to the Spanish throne.

Hopes to Retain MacBrien's Services

Ottawa.—The hope that the services of Major-General J. H. MacBrien, chief of staff of the Department of National Defence, might be retained was expressed by Premier King, addressing the officers of the Governor-General's Foot Guards at a dinner. General MacBrien some time ago tendered his resignation. Premier King paid high tribute to General MacBrien.

Canada's Jubilee

Sir Arthur Curry Would Like to See Preparations Hurred Up

Montreal.—The apathy with which, he said, Canadians were approaching the jubilee date of Confederation was deplored by Sir Arthur Curry, commander-in-chief of the Canadian troops during the war and principal of McGill University. He spoke before the Electrical Club of Montreal.

"Jubilee committees have been appointed," said Sir Arthur, "but I would like to see some sign of activity upon the part of those forming those committees. The birthday of Confederation is not far off. It is high time something was done. I know that on the first of July those great bells at Ottawa will peal out but they will not reach the general public of Canada."

Chinese Communists Executed

Shanghai.—Six prisoners described as communists and including the head of the Chinese seamen's union, were executed today at the Nationalist headquarters in the native city of Shanghai. This brings the total number of agitators executed since the moderates began their drive against the Reds to more than 100.

FORMER LABOR PRIME MINISTER AT WASHINGTON

Washington.—A sentimental traveler down old familiar roads, was how right Hon. J. Ramsay MacDonald, former Labor Prime Minister of Great Britain, described himself to the Canadian Press correspondent here, when he arrived for a brief visit to Sir Ernie Howard, the British ambassador.

Mr. MacDonald stated that his visit had no political significance. He said he was unable to reach Canada on this trip as pressure of business compelled him to stay for home very soon.

Asked if British Labor had seriously resented the deportation law of 1919 in Canada, Mr. MacDonald said he had never been seriously alarmed that the sedition laws of the Dominion would be unfairly used against Britishers there.

In the opinion of the former Prime Minister, the Baldwin Government had "fumbled" and the trend of political opinion was in favor of the return to a Labor Government in Great Britain on his analysis of the vote in recent by-elections in Leith and Southwark.

Mr. MacDonald predicted a recurrence of the coal miners' strike unless wrongs of the miners were redressed soon. He did not believe, however, that the general strike weapon would be used next time, remarking that many who favored the general strike weapon had found themselves unwilling to be "generally struck."

Mr. MacDonald was a luncheon guest at the British embassy and was entertained at dinner by the executive council of the American Federation of Labor.

New Fashions from Japan

These young ladies who are travelling on the world cruise of the Canadian Pacific flagship the Empress of Scotland, were so struck by the beautiful garments they saw when their tour came round to Japan that they went and purchased one of the most outstanding, namely, the haori. This, as can be seen from the engraving, is a very beautiful sort of shawl whose folds can be arranged according to taste in almost any shape desired. They are very attractively figured in floral designs and from the general appearance of them, it would not be surprising if these young ladies became the advance guard of a new fashion originating from Japan. Anyway, we make a present of the idea (although not of the garment) to our readers.

IS NOT POSSIBLE NOW TO EQUALIZE FREIGHT RATES

Ottawa.—After sittings extending over two years and occupying 106 days, the general freight rates inquiry by the Board of Railway Commissioners is drawing to a close. The inquiry is expected to be completed this week.

Isaac Pitblado, K.C., the last counsel to be heard for the provinces or others opposing rates increases, concluded his address and W. N. Tuley, K.C., Toronto, at once opened the case for the railways. He remarked on the changes which had occurred since the first important argument on freight rates was before the board, in 1911. Important changes had occurred in transportation conditions. In those days there was only one trans-continental railway spanning Canada. So, too, the scope of this inquiry was far more sweeping and comprehensive than any previous investigation had been and the judgment of the board, when rendered, would be of the greatest importance to all concerned in the railway, the provinces and the nation as a whole.

Mr. Pitblado dealt at some length with the matter of equalization. He declared equalization of rates was an impossibility today. Any attempt to adjust the present rates structures today on the principle of an equal rate for equal mileage in every part of the country would mean chaos and disaster to the commerce of the country.

It was far more necessary, he declared, to set about an adjustment which would enable the natural resources of the country, the fruit, lumber, mining products, fish, etc., to move from the point of production to the most profitable market, and so facilitate the development of that market, both domestic and foreign; than it was to legislate so that the trader in Montreal could serve his local market, of say 125 miles radius, at the same cost of transportation as the trader in Winnipeg could serve his.

Equalization of rates, said Mr. Pitblado, was no new idea. An attempt had been made in 1872 to put equalization legislation through the Canadian Parliament but without success and a similar attempt in the Imperial Parliament the previous year "has met a like fate. Today it was no more practicable than it was half a century ago."

Arctic Flier is Safe

Negro's Skin Turns White

Government Refuses To Act

Peking Officials Reject Soviet Demands in Connection With Raid on Paria—Injection by the Peking Government of the demands of the Russian Soviet Government in connection with the raid on the Soviet buildings in the embassy compound at Peking, is reported in a despatch to the Indo-Pacific Agency. The raid on orders of the Northern Chinese authorities was carried out on April 6.

Two days after the raid the Soviet Government ordered all the embassy officials to leave and in a note delivered to the Chinese chargé d'affaires at Moscow, made a series of demands. These included immediate evacuation of police from the compound, the release of all those arrested in the raid, and the return of all documents seized, together with all money, personal property, household goods and books taken by the police.

Only Two Dry Provinces

Government Liquor Control—Quebec Effect in New Brunswick

Fredericton, N.S.—The province of New Brunswick formally dissociated itself with the other six provinces of Canada which now have Government liquor laws when Lieutenant Governor Todd gave Royal assent to the measure which passed the Legislature and which gives this province an act similar in many respects to that which will shortly come into operation in Ontario.

This leaves only Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island with temperance laws based on prohibition of the sale of alcohol.

Federalship Seizure Illegal

Judge Hands Down Decision in California Court

San Francisco Cal.—Handing down a decision that the seizure last March of the citizenship Federalship by its million-dollar cargo of liquor and arrest of the captain and 19 members of the crew, 300 miles off the California coast, was illegal, Federal Judge Douglass ruled that the seizure was a violation of treaty relationships between nations.

Captain S. S. Stone, skipper of the Federalship, and 19 members of his crew, were released from jail following the judgment.

CIVILIAN WAR SUFFERERS MUST WAIT FOR A YEAR

Ottawa.—There will be no payments this year to the civilian sufferers from the great war.

Reparations Commissioner Friel has not yet completed his work.

It is understood that the secretary of state has been for some time pressing Mr. Friel to hurry his reports, even being still undischarged but has been unable to speed things up. The result is that many impoverished citizens of Canada must suffer for another year without the compensation payments which the Dominion is willing to pay.

These war sufferers have no legal claim, but the principle has been generally accepted that compassionate payments will be made out of Canada's share of the reparations under the Dawes plan.

There is no legislation authorizing this and whatever payment is made must be specifically voted by parliament. An attempt was made two years ago to get parliament to vote part of the money, but this was refused. Parliament wanted the full report.

With parliament prorogued and the commissioner's final report missing, there was no vote passed. The secretary of state admits that some of the claimants are in a destitute condition, yet nothing can be done for them.

Canada has received $1,000,517 in payments on reparation account, and still has $1,799,430 due from Great Britain. The latter sum, however, is dependent on the settlement of other accounts between Britain and Canada. If this sum is paid there will be $1,799,430 available on reparation account, together with any Dawes instalments paid in the meantime.

The policy of the government with reference to this money will not be decided until Commissioner Friel makes his report.

The British parliament appropriated $27,500,000 for distribution to claimants who had suffered loss. Canadians domiciled in Britain have thus been compensated, but Canadian claimants domiciled at home must still wait nearly nine years after the war is over.

AGRICULTURISTS OPTIMISTIC OVER CROP PROSPECTS

Winnipeg, Man.—A general survey of agricultural conditions throughout the west made by the agricultural department of the Canadian Pacific Railway, shows that, conditions are satisfactory, though the spring is somewhat belated. The saturated condition of the soil, and the cold changeable weather of the past two weeks, have delayed commencement of work and precluded any possibility of farmers getting an early start. With the exception of a small amount of plowing and discing in southern portions of the prairie provinces, no work on the land has been done, but it is scarcely likely even under the most favorable weather conditions that seeding can become general in the west before the end of April or the beginning of May. In higher lands having good drainage, seeding should commence early this week.

Seeding in Manitoba, in 1920, was not general until May 3; in Saskatchewan, May 6, and in Alberta, May 8. In 1923, seeding was general in Manitoba on May 6; in Saskatchewan and Alberta on May 1. The long cold winter with considerable snow, combined with a shortage of seed in many parts of the west, has made it somewhat hard on stock, with a likelihood of this cattle, this spring.

Dashing their optimism largely on the fact that few springs have started off with as much moisture in the soil as now, farmers are looking forward to a good crop year. In practically all the districts throughout the west there should be sufficient moisture to carry the crop until the beginning of June.

Announces Anaemia Cure

Ready For Public Use Very Soon

Safe Restorer Doctor Rochester, N.Y.—Dr. J. M. Macpherson, a new victor over disease with the announcement that within a few weeks there will be ready for public use a cure for anaemia that has been successful in 99 out of 109 cases.

The announcement was made by Dr. George R. Whipple, dean of the medical schools of the University of Rochester, after ten years of experiment with the new serum, announced by Mrs. Frieda S. Robbins, physiologist at the school. For the past two years Dr. George R. Whipple and Dr. Edwin J. Cohn, of Harvard medical school, have collaborated with Dr. Macpherson.

The cure is a serum discovered during a decade of experimenting on anaemic dogs and humans. It is an extract of beef liver but has not yet been sufficiently purified to make chemical identification and naming possible. It will be distributed through selected physicians in the various cities as was done with insulin.

British Peer Joins Laborites

Sir Robert Peel Has Gone Over to Labor Party

London.—Another member of the British nobility is to join the Labor Party. Sir Robert Peel, baronet, grandson of the statesman, "Bobbie" Peel, from whom the London police-men derived the nickname which has clung to them since early in the Victorian period, has announced his intention of participating in politics on the side of Labor. The young peer already has under consideration proposals to stand for Parliament in the Tanworth division of South Staffordshire, his home, which was the division represented by his grandfather when he entered politics.

While prime minister, the older Peel founded the modern police force, and immediately the police-men became known as "Bobbies," and also as "Peelers," but the latter designation lasted only for a short time.

Blairmore, Alta., Thur., April 28, 1927

CORRESPONDENCE

Blairmore, Alberta.

April 26, 1927.

The Editor,

The Blairmore Enterprise,
Blairmore, Alberta.

Dear Sir,

Permit me to reply to Mr. H. T. Evans, Claresholm, author of an article regarding immigration appearing in your issue of the 7th instant. Not possessing superior knowledge of the English language, I found it very difficult to understand his meagre communication. However, with the aid of good friends, I have ascertained what Mr. Evans wished to express. It appears that he is not at all conversant with the subject upon which he wrote. In fact, he must be absolutely ignorant, as geography does not record "Bolsheviks, Slavies, etc.," as far as I am able to ascertain. Anyway, Mr. Evans would not know the difference unless he went to school for many more years. I'll wager he does not know the difference between an orange and an elephant, let alone such complicated subjects as nationalities, politics and so forth. He might have overheard someone else talking about it.

Let me dwell briefly upon things that Mr. Evans should learn. It might interest him to know that the Dominion government, railways and steamship companies are spending thousands, if not millions, of dollars in advertising Canada over the whole of Europe. The minds of European people are so thoroughly saturated that they actually believe Canada is a piece of golden territory. Just lately an immigrant told me that when the agents got hold of his name and address, he was pestered daily with letters, folders, pictures, booklets and various inducements until he was convinced that Canada actually needed him and he decided to come out here. But he has not bettered himself at all by coming here; in fact, he is in debt to the extent of $200 for transportation.

So far as the breaking of laws is concerned, let us take bootlegging first. Who made the bootlegging a lucrative business? Was it not the law? Immigrants cannot be blamed for that which prohibition caused. Because Italians favor wines as beverage in preference to the poisonous tea or coffee, we cannot class them as drunkards. That is a part of their meal. Does not aristocracy indulge in wines after meals regardless of the law? How many American plutocrats go to Paris and other fashionable pleasure resorts where they not only drink the wine but bathe in it? A glance at some of the weeklies will convince anyone of the gaudiness that are indulged in by those who are supposed to set an example to society.

I do not believe a word about propaganda in this Pass against the British flag. I have been here perhaps longer than Mr. Evans and have never heard anything like that. This is only a coal mining district. There is really nothing here for Red, I.W.W.s, or anarchists. This is a very poor territory for political science and I am surprised that Mr. Evans does not understand that. There is not a thing here to attract any political leaders.

As to immigrants sending money home, those days are gone forever. What chance has a non-English-speaking immigrant against the English immigrant? The latter is paying but a few shillings and pence for transportation as compared with $200 to $300 that other Europeans pay. If the former is lucky enough to get immediate employment, it takes him a couple of years to pay back the debt contracted to pay the C.P.R. or other transportation company. Employment exists eight or nine months out of every year and many an immigrant is fortunate if he has one meal per day during the distressing unemployment period. Let us take the Pass for an instance. In the winter, when the coal industry should flourish, how many people are more than barely existing?

I will agree that this wholesale inflow of immigrants is inflating our labor markets, but if the U.S. assimilated a greater variety of nationalities and in greater numbers, and grew up to be a mighty nation, surely Canada can do the same. But instead of discriminating we should all join hands and pull, all together, and make Canada be as proud of its immigrants as the U.S. is of hers.

Oriental are hard workers and many of them have dug trenches for the allied armies during the great war. Cheap labor—even the railroads are using Orientals in places where the white labor once used to work. Italian and Slavic labor built all the wonderful railroads and the Orientals are maintaining them. I wonder who made greater investment in our railroads—capital or labor? The physical investment I think is every bit as great as the money investment. The odd dollar that the immigrant sent to his dear ones at home could never by the human effort invested in our railroads by the pioneer and Italian and Slavic immigrants. Their blistered hands made it possible to have the present railroad facilities, and money alone could not have accomplished that. So, any money that the immigrants sent out of the country did not hurt Canada. Why not look into a more striking devotion of Canada's wealth? For instance, most of the industries in Canada are financed with foreign capital, usually such capital brings political influence and takes away the earnings, either to London or New York. Could not this be classed as exploitation? Could not Canada make use of the millions that are paid annually in dividends to investors outside of its boundaries?

In conclusion, I want to remind Mr. Evans that we must not expect an immigrant to use masterly English, as I believe Mr. Evans is an old immigrant himself and his English is not at all scholastic. In fact, he should be ashamed of his vocabulary and spelling. Of course I appreciate that it is hard to learn the English language, and perhaps I should give him a chance, just like immigrants.

Please accept my sincere thanks for your kindness in allowing this space in your valued paper, I am,

Yours respectfully,

THOMAS GUSHUL

COWLEY HAPPENINGS

E. L. and J. P. Swainey, of Fishburn, were visitors here on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Swar, and children are spending a few days in Lethbridge.

The farmers are taking advantage of the fine weather. Seed is rapidly progressing on most of the farms now.

Elwin Tustan, of Purple Springs, arrived in town on Tuesday morning by train. His father, passed away about an hour after he reached the bedside.

Miss Nellie McWilliams, who is employed on the teaching staff at Claresholm, returned to take up her duties after spending the Easter holidays visiting relatives and old acquaintances in this vicinity.

The dance put on here on Friday night, under the auspices of the teachers of the district in aid of the School Fair fund, proved to be a huge success, a tidy sum being netted. A large crowd turned out and an extra good time is reported.

Word was received here that Billy Twaddle, nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Swart, had died in Lethbridge on Sunday night. Billy had spent several months with his aunt and uncle here and had made a large circle of friends. His death came as a shock to all who had learned to like him. Sympathy is extended to the bereaved ones.

Mr. Samuel Tustan died at his home here on Tuesday morning, following a very brief illness. The funeral takes place today from the United church to the Cowley cemetery. Mr. Tustan had been in failing health for about two years, but the end came suddenly. He was 78 years of age and is survived by a wife, one daughter, Mrs. Amelia Lloyd, of Kaganang, Ontario, and five sons, Les at Bowden, Fred and Will at Cowley, H. Edwin at Purple Springs, and George at Kaganang.

COLIN G. GROFF TO SUPER-INTEND MARKETING TOUR

Announcement is made by Dr. W. J. Black, director of colonization and agriculture of the Canadian National Railways, of the appointment of Colin G. Groff, former publicity commissioner of the government of Alberta, to the position of superintendent of the marketing tour now being organized by the colonization department of the railway. Mr. Groff, who has for some years been engaged in newspaper and publicity work in the west, reached Montreal recently to take over his new duties.

Organization work for the marketing tour, which was announced some time ago, is now going forward. This tour is being undertaken under the auspices of the colonization and agriculture department of the Canadian National Railways with the object of providing an opportunity for Canadian farmers and agriculturists to study conditions under which Canadian agricultural products are marketed in Great Britain. The cost of the trip, which is expected to last between four and five weeks in the old land, will be put at as low a figure as possible in order that farmers from all parts of Canada may take advantage of it. The plan is to have the party visit the important marketing centres of Britain with a visit also to some of the famous livestock breeding centres, and a side trip to Denmark, to obtain an insight into methods of production and marketing there, is also contemplated.

Provision will, of course, be made for visits to historic spots, and for other sight-seeing and entertainment features. Already a great deal of interest has been indicated in Britain in the coming visit of the party, and there is assurance that the Canadian farmers who take advantage of the tour will receive a most enthusiastic welcome.

MUSICAL ENTERPRISE IN CROW'S NEST PASS

With Blairmore as a centre, a land-abst of fifty-three bells, weighing as many tons, mounted in a huge steel framework weighing twenty-two tons. An inscription on the largest bell of ton tons is in French and English, and round the top maple leaves have been moulded. The bell will be the second largest in Canada and the third largest on the American continent. The clock will control five of the bells for striking the Westminster Chimes. On the fourth quarter bell is an inscription stating that its casting was witnessed by the Right Hon. Mackenzie King, prime minister of Canada, last November. It is proposed to inaugurate the carillon with suitable ceremony on Dominion Day, July 1st.

Blairmore has set the example and pointed the way, and the co-operation which the town has received in staging the annual event so successfully speaks volumes for the right kind of interest in the surrounding communities. One need not go into all that has been said of the influence of music to emphasize this, for it would be only punctuating and stressing the accepted and the obvious. With all that music proclaims it would be a task of supererogation to endeavor "to paint the rose" or "to gild the lily." Sufficient it is that the people of Blairmore and the surrounding communities have come to see the light which is diffused in giving music an honored place.

The emulation which the Crow's Nest Pass Sunday School Musical Festival lends to the young is a feature of these events which makes for undoubted good. The human voice and the talent and appreciation of music are gifts well worth cultivating and encouraging. The stimulus to this is given by the Musical Festival. There is nothing like aiming high, nothing like making the best of the natural gifts we have. The soul of music should not be suffered to be dead. It is a God-given gift which needs extolling and cultivating.

To those who have been untiring in their efforts to bring the Crow's Nest Musical Festival to its present standard and to make it better still we can offer our sincere congratulations. With them it has not been a case of wearing in well doing. A happy spirit has been evidenced, and with such zeal and endeavor music, as it should, will take its proper and fitting place in the communities through which, by the medium of the Festival, its appreciation is made to spread. —Lethbridge Herald.

THE SPIRIT OF THE PRESS

There is a certain type of man in every community who poses as a good citizen. He breaks no law, lives morally, pays his honest debts and is never tangled up with the law in any manner. But he lives to himself, by himself and for himself exclusively. When the call is issued for volunteers to put across a community movement and give a boost, he never answers. When calamity has befallen people in certain localities and charity flies to their rescue, he is never one of their number. When money is needed for public enterprise his name is never on the list. When he sees some neighbor stuck in the mud he detours to avoid him. When his services are needed for public welfare he is never able to give them. In fact, if he stood on the shore and saw the ship of state sinking, he would never offer to throw in a line. And if all mankind was fashioned from this same kind of chap, what would happen? There would be no progress in municipal affairs, no development in the community, no churches, no institutions, for the unfortunate and no improvement in our manner and mode of living.—Wetaskin Times.

WORLD'S GREATEST CARILLON FOR CANADA

Within eighteen months of beginning the work, a famous firm of bell founders of London have completed the largest carillon in the world. With an electric clock it will be placed in the tower of the houses of parliament at Ottawa. The carillon, which commemorates the peace of 1918 and the sacrifices of Canada in the war, consists of fifty-three bells, weighing as many tons, mounted in a huge steel framework weighing twenty-two tons. The bell will be the second largest in Canada and the third largest on the American continent. The clock will control five of the bells for striking the Westminster Chimes. On the fourth quarter bell is an inscription stating that its casting was witnessed by the Right Hon. Mackenzie King, prime minister of Canada, last November. The rapid strides made by Prince Edward Island's seed potato business, aggregating 800,000 bushels for the past season, mostly shipped south, formed a subject of discussion at the 51st annual convention of the New Brunswick Farmers' and Jayrmen's Association here. It was pointed out that this business has rapidly developed; that ten years back not a single seed potato was sold outside of the province. The remarkable advance in this business was due, it was claimed, to the production of a disease-free potato.

It is expected that eventually the entire area will be served by travelling schools.

THE FINANCES OF THE SALVATION ARMY

The recurrence of the Salvation Army's "Self-Denial" appeal makes it appropriate to refer to the system of finance adopted by this organization.

The Army has thought out its financial system with the same care and thoroughness which it has devoted to every part of its work. The method it employs has earned commendation from financial experts and authorities who have studied its principles.

The General is the trustee of all Army funds. He is so constituted by the foundation deeds.

4. The Social Fund, from which the social work is supported.

The Army is a huge business organization. It is true that its "profits" are spiritual and moral, but careful and adequate financing and budgeting ahead are necessary to make those "profits" possible. Any noticeable diminution of income would create a sorrowful situation. Long and patient work at last nearing its fruit-responsibilities of trusteeship, set themselves to devise and perfect a system to secure in the case of every department, and of every individual officer, so far as Army incomes and outgoings are concerned, a strict economy, an exceptional control over expenditures, and a careful and detailed accounting and auditing.

This closely detailed system of Army finance is not due merely to a love of method and thrift for their own sake. It has been adopted because it helps the Salvation Army to reach its goal. It represents those principles for which the Army stands, worked out in terms of the ledger and the balance sheet.

Think what a first-class investment the Army is. It has brought into action a wonderful volume of service. It has developed gifts and energies in multitudes of individuals with regard to whom; but for the Army, it would never have been thought they "had it in them!" And these people are winning others from sin and shame and ruin to purity and honor and prosperity. That is a thing, on the lowest

This involves skilled professional work as well as the utmost personal integrity, and more than one corporation has been known to covet the staff of the Army in its administrative and accountancy branches, although, of course, the services of these experts are secured to the Army on the same conditions as those which govern the appointment of other officers.

This is why the Salvation Army appeals to the public to help in its Self-Denial Effort. You can give to no worthier cause.

CANADA HAS ENDORSED THE OLDSMOBILE SIX

GOVERNMENT statistics prove the public acceptance of the Oldsmobile Six. Automobile registration figures tell the story of Oldsmobile's ever-growing popularity far more graphically than words.

A comparison of the years 1926 and 1925 shows an increase, throughout Canada, of 108% in Oldsmobile Six registrations.

January and February of 1927 show an increase of 133% over the same two months of last year and an increase of 1042% over the corresponding period of 1925.

These figures prove beyond question that Oldsmobile Six is succeeding, even beyond expectation, in its task of supplying to the Canadian people a six-cylinder automobile of unquestionably high quality, at a phenomenally low price.

When you have seen and driven a known Oldsmobile, you will appreciate why "Canada has endorsed the Oldsmobile Six."

CALGARY, April 25.—Kicked in the abdomen in the game here Saturday, David Keddie, former goal tender of the Edmonton Callies, was badly injured while playing for the Brewery against the Army-Navy in the Charity Cup. Vast Alien Interests in China Likely to Prevent Nation Going Bolshevik

Chang Tsolin has declared himself ready to welcome any form of popular republican government in China, but is opposed to interference by the Soviets.

In China money can do anything. It is therefore conceivable that if the Soviet government cares to spend money enough, the prejudices of Chang Tsolin may be overcome.

If China goes Bolshevik she will probably follow the example of her prototype, and regulate all her obligations. However, in view of the vast alien interests in China, and the rights vested by treaties in certain foreign powers, it is unlikely that China will be able to become Bolshevik without a serious struggle.

There could be no talk of a conquest of China such as aforesaid she often suffered, though she always subsequently absorbed the invaders. But the Chinese warlords are so accustomed to compromise in face of superior military forces that the outside powers would be tempted to secure by invasion, and the temporary occupation of strategic trade centres, adequate guarantees that the obligations of China would be discharged. No grave military difficulties would attend such an operation; but it would not hasten in the amicable way that America, Britain and other powers most desire the economic and social development of China.

PETER'S DENIAL AND REPENTANCE

Golden Text: Let him that thinketh he standeth, take heed lest he fall.—1 Cor. 10:12.

Lesson: Mark 14:53; 54, 66-71.

Devotional Reading: Psalm 51:1-9.

Explanations and Comments

1. In the Palace of the High Priest, Mark 14:53, 54.—The time is after the betrayal and arrest in the Garden of Gethsemane. Two painful scenes are being enacted in the palace of the high priest. Above, in the Assembly Hall, stands Jesus before the Sanhedrin (chief priests and elders and scribes), the judges of the world is being judged by men obsessed by hatred, bent on delivering him up to death.

Below in the courtyard sits Peter. He had followed Jesus afar off, and had entered "even within, into the court of the high priest," Mark tells us. The expression is redundant, and suggests the idea of one stealthily feeling his way into the court of the palace, venturing far and further in, and gaining courage with each step.

The courtyard was the inner quadrangle, around which the palace was built. With the officers—doubtless the military guard who had delivered up their prisoner and were waiting for further orders, Peter was warming himself by the fire which glowed in an open charcoal brazier. In the spring the nights are cold at Jerusalem and a fire is welcome.

"Sullen, and apprehensive at a word," Peter, the bold disciple of the Lord, Crouched above the brazier's slender flame, Flinching to hear his too familiar name.

Banded with Christ's, defiant to deny, Lashed once should fiercely whisper, "Crucify!"

John L. Baird, young British inventor, claims to have established television between London and New York. He proposes to give a wireless telephone—television demonstration between a New York store shortly. A special receiving set has been built for the purpose.

Mr. Baird said that for several weeks he carried on his experiments between his station at Goulston and a station twenty-five miles outside New York. A new station is being installed in America by means of which Mr. Baird says it will be possible to demonstrate the practicability of his invention. If these tests are successful, television, the company of which he is technical director, will place a television receiving set on the market at a cost of $150.

Widespread interest was aroused in London by the successful television experiments, between New York and Washington. Although many experiments in television have been made in Britain, engineers of the General Post Office are not co-operating with the scientists on both sides of the Atlantic who are trying to bring this new development within reach of the public. A post office official, questioned on the subject, replied, "There is much to be done before the post office aims at a public service of television."

The Canadian Club of New York as the largest and most representative Canadian gathering in the United States has decided to take the initiative in raising funds by popular subscription to a suitable memorial or tablet on Parliament Hill at Ottawa to mark the occasion of the sixteenth anniversary of Confederation, the sentiment of devotion to their native land of Canadians residing in the United States.

The Changing West

Senator W. A. Buchanan, publisher of the Lethbridge Herald, addressed the Toronto Young Men's Board of Trade recently on "The Changing West," pointing out the transformations in progress. From straight grain growing to mixed farming, with industrial centres developing, all tending to broaden the economic and labor basis of the West.

White Star Liner "Alberic" 19,000 Tons, Largest Ever to Sail From Montreal

Another page in steamship history will be written this season when the Alberic, of the White Star Line Canadian Service, holds the record for the largest steamers to sail up the river St. Lawrence as far as Montreal.

Previous to this season the Doric and Regina, sister ships in the White Star Line Canadian Service, held the record for the largest steamers to enter the port of Montreal. They are 16,500 tons each, but the Alberic is 19,000 tons and, therefore, 2,500 larger than the Doric and Regina.

The Alberic is an I.M.S.P. steamer. She was formerly known as the Ohio, one of the world famous "O" liners. She will join the St. Lawrence fleet with a reputation equal to her size and, in addition to being the largest steamer ever to sail up the St. Lawrence to Montreal, will be one of the most luxurious to make Montreal her terminal.

The Alberic will be used on the direct service to Liverpool eastbound while on the westbound route she will call at Queenstown. She will leave Liverpool on her first westbound voyage under the new name on April 22 and will steam out of Montreal on her first eastbound voyage on May 7.

Built in 1923, the Alberic is 587 feet long, 72 feet wide and 37.6 feet deep and has seven decks. "B" is the observation deck; "D" is the boat deck on which are located the smoking room, the lounge, the reading room and a few staterooms.

"C" is known as the promenade deck. This is partially glass enclosed and it offers the incentive to exercise, which, in turn, develops the healthy appetite.

On "C" deck too are the luxurious staterooms, the dining room, with separate beds, sitting room and bathroom while on "D" deck are a few more staterooms and staterooms adjacent with the dining room, the haven of refuge after big appetites have been created on deck in the luscious sea air.

There are three other decks, "E," "F" and "G" which are used for staterooms where passengers can be assured of a restful sleep after the activities of the day on the spacious decks.

The equipment of the Alberic embodies the latest designs in wireless telegraphy and submarine signalling apparatus, fireproof and watertight bulkheads, combined semaphore and Morse signalling appliances, while among other features there are on board for the convenience of passengers, two barber shops, a ladies hairdressing parlor, and a library.

The Alberic will make eight voyages from Montreal this season, on May 7, June 3, July 2, July 30, August 27, September 2, October 2 and November 19, and on all these voyages she will carry cabin, tourist third cabin and third class passengers direct to Liverpool. On her last trip of the season she will call, en route, at Glasgow.

Canadian Air Force

Four Modern Fighting Planes to Replace Obsolete Aircraft

Replacement of a few obsolete war type aircraft by a flight of four modern fighting planes to familiarize officers of the Canadian air force in the handling of modern planes is provided for in the estimates passed recently by Parliament, according to the Department of National Defence.

The air service estimates passed by the House totaled $3,892,293. Of this $1,669,694 was for military training and operation and $2,222,599 for civil government operations and civil aviation.

Besides providing for the new planes, the former estimates will enable the training on a small scale of a reserve of officers and air staff.

The estimates covering civil aviation are mostly for forest and survey services for other government departments.

The program includes this year air patrols for fire detection and suppression of over 70,000 acres of forested lands in Eastern and Northern Manitoba and Northern Saskatchewan, and for fire detection patrols of over 3,500 acres in the forest reserves in the foothills of the Rocky Mountains in Western Alberta.

The air survey program includes work in every province in the Dominion. The growing importance of this feature of aviation has been recognized and the development of the resources of the north country are largely dependent on good maps being made available of remote districts now becoming of great importance through their mineral or forest wealth.

Unable to Follow Custom For the first time in history, the King of Spain failed this year to follow the time-honored precedent of granting Don Pelayo pardons to a number of criminals condemned to death. The reason for this was that in all the prisons throughout Spain there was not a single man condemned to death at the time.

The custom, particularly started in medieval times, the King liberating as many as a dozen convicts under sentence of death.

The development of radio in Sweden now covers the entire country. More than 200,000 receiving sets are in use.

Embarrassing Position Experienced By Bronx Lady

Miss Joanne Glinberg, Bronx, N. Y., writes: "I had become accustomed to arising each day with a heavy head, dizzy and bad taste in my mouth. My bowels were frequently clogged and constipated. One day I became so sick to my stomach I had to leave an important job and go home. A friend advised me to take CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS. I feel greatly relieved since using them and whenever my stomach and head go bad again I'll certainly know what to do."

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are SUGAR COATED, small, easy to swallow, purely vegetable, and relieve the bowels free from pain. They tonic the system as they are purely vegetable and do not contain Mercury, Calomel or other poisonous drugs.

"You mean," she said, "that I may marry you, but have someone else invite him to love me? That if I do that it will be quite all right with you, my husband. And that if I do all this, why, I may keep my money?"

"Just that!" he answered shortly, "your money, and your love!"

When she did not speak, at once, he went on with a merciless sneer.

"The man you are thinking of will not hesitate, I imagine, to take full advantage of such an arrangement. He has shown himself to be amenable to any kind of conditions. While we are here, tonight, he is kneeling before satin slippers that were never worn by your feet. You have not done with him as you would like to have done—only because he was afraid to bind himself to you. Free him from that fear, and offer him another way; and I fancy, he will not be so elusive. Perhaps I might add that by giving me yourself, as my wife, mind you, you will not only retain your money, but you will solve the problem of retaining—him!"

She stared into his eyes for a long time, then dropped into the chair.

"Would you mind," she asked, "ordering me something to drink? My throat is parched."

Then she buried her head in her arms.

Without a word Brandon went to the door and signalled the waiter, who had remained on the balcony in the vicinity of the door. The man hurried away. Brandon returned to the chair and stood by the side of the limp form of the girl. He touched her body robotically. She put up her hand in mute appeal for him to be silent. He hesitated, and then, with a shrug of his shoulders went to the fireplace.

When the waiter brought in the champagne, with glasses arranged on the tray, Brandon signalled him to deposit it on the table, and waved him out of the room. Joanna stirred and lifted herself, by bracing against the table, to her feet.

When she looked across at Brandon the cynicism smile that so many people had never understood hovered about her lips.

Brandon went at once to the table and reached for the champagne to open it.

Then he sank, noiselessly, to the floor.

After a little while Joanna opened her fingers and the broken wreck of a champagne bottle fell.

Joanna stood over him and watched the crimson trickle from his forehead, the broken, jagged neck of the champagne bottle still clutched in the deadly grip of his hand.

CHAPTER XXXIV

The Flight

Down stairs they danced; danced and shouted witty, taunting, mocking things at each other. Long, twisting sentences, thrown from dancer to dancer in carnival abandon, spread a rippling blanket of twined words over the club house floor. And Joanna gazed down, upon the prostrate form that lay at her feet, the crimson still trickling in ghastly persistence from the white forehead.

After a little while she opened her fingers and the broken wreck of the champagne bottle fell to the carpet. She closed her eyes and lifted her face, from which all the color had fled.

This was a pose Joanna had never struck before. It was one she'd never practiced. She'd never thought of anything quite like it. It was as if she wasn't posing at all—just holding her face toward heaven with her eyes closed as if afraid to contemplate the message that might be written there.

Then she went onto the balcony and closed the door behind her. She nodded to the waiter who stood nearby, fashing him an answering smile that seemed to tell him she was enjoying herself tremendously and would be coming back in a moment.

Downstairs she skirted the dance floor and threaded her way among the tables to foyer. The red coated attendant bowed to her. "It is still black outside, Mademoiselle," he said. "No one could get down, now. It will lift by morning though."

"Just the same," she returned, "please to call for Mr. Brandon's car, if you think he will have one parked in the yard."

The flunkey who had protested had Joanna silenced him with an arrogant gesture. Muttering he went onto the veranda, Joanna following him, and called to a knot of chauffeurs who stood in the mid-clubbed glare of a powerful headlights, discussing, no doubt, the affairs of their masters. None of these responded. He went then into the yard, and among the parked cars he found the hunched shape of Antoine and spoke to him. Antoine, wondering, asked that Monsieur Brandon was his patron.

"Very well then," the attendant commanded, "be so good as to bring your car to the entrance. Your master seems to be remaining. Mademoiselle, his young lady, apparently brings his order for you to take, he down the mountains. You can't make it, of course, but that is his and her affair, not mine."

Antoine groveled his doubts of such a situation. They were cut short by Joanna herself, who appeared suddenly at the side of the car in the wake of the doorman. "I do not desire to be taken down the mountains," she declared. "Your master, however, requires you, inside at once. I am to await your return, with him perhaps, in the car. Please to go at once."

Both Antoine and the servant were puzzled, but Joanna brooked no tardiness in obeying her commands. To Antoine she repeated: "I bring your master's orders. Attend to them!" The attendant here will show you the way to Mr. Brandon. He awaits you in the private room, on the balcony. Still dubious about this sudden humor to expose him to possible identification by the maskers in the club house Antoine descended from the car and stumbled along behind the other man. Joanna climbed into the seat he had vacated. When their two forms disappeared across the veranda she felt with her toe for the starter, found it, kicked it, and in another moment was guiding the gray car toward the gate. When she was safely through the gate she disappeared in the mist. The curious chauffeurs who had watched her maneuver heard the echo of her horn until it, too, was absorbed by the thick, opaque atmosphere. "That's the one they call the Golden Girl," one of the drivers explained to his companions. "Pity, isn't it, to see a young girl like her clear-sighted to the devil!"

Antoine, led at his request through kitchens and sculleries, was brought to the closed door on the balcony. The guardian waiter opened the door for him. Brandon's credence was beginning to quiver. The excitable waiter would have lunged out of the room with a cry of alarm but Antoine clutched him by the throat and smothered the sounds in it. "Quietly, my friend," Antoine said, grumbling. "There's something to hide here, not to advertise. Bring the proprietor, or his assistant—quickly!"

At the end of an hour's patient ministrations behind the locked door Brandon, stretched on a divan, his eyes open and gazed around him. His first feebly uttered question was:

"Where's the girl. The Made-moiselle?"

The club house director would have silenced Antoine's complaint that she had stolen his car, but the Monogaque would not be restrained. Through the banister he muttered about Brandon's head something of a fleeing smile escaped. "It is just as well," he murmured. "It is of cheer, my good Antoine! I failed, but I fancy you and your men will be paid double for your little practice tonight."

"But she will give the alarm below!" the other exclaimed. "Before morning! After dawn it would be futile; we contemplated an alarm by

Weight of British Debt

Amount Owing to States Placed at 8,700 Tons of Gold

Great Britain's debt to the United States would make a jump of gold weighing 8,700 tons, Lord Col. L. S. Amery, secretary for the Dominions, estimated in a speech at the annual dinner of the Mining and Metallurgical Institution, London.

"Therefore," he added, "our debt to America is more on the part of the projector and mining engineer than for the financier."

The British debt to the United States was funded in 1923 at $4,600,000,000.

Is More Than Pleased With Results He Got

Manitoba Man Speaks Highly of Dodd's Kidney Pills

Mr. W. G. Kemble Used Dodd's Kidney Pills for Weak Kidneys and Found Them Very Beneficial.

Minneapolis, Minn. (Special)—The following is one of the many letters of praise which we are continually receiving. It comes from Mr. W. G. Kemble, of Waters Street, here.

"I was told to try Dodd's Kidney Pills and must say I have to thank the person many times for telling me about Dodd's Kidney Pills for they brought me great relief. I would not be without them."

That Mr. Kemble's trouble came from the kidneys is evidenced by the blood test from Dodd's Kidney Pills. When the kidneys become clogged or out of order, the circulation becomes sluggish, the impurities are not strained out of the blood and the result is weariness and lack of energy to the body.

Guard against these diseases and get back your accustomed energy by using Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Had New Experience At Bird Sanctuary

Famous Naturalist Proves That Wild Geese Are Not Wild

Jack Minor, famous naturalist, whose bird sanctuary at Kingsville, is one of the show places of Ontario, has contended for a long time that the Canadian wild geese is not wild—that it is human beings that are wild. He had a new experience while entertaining a party of visitors at his place, who arrived there at dawn to see geese flock from the lake to his ponds. He was attempting to show the visitors how he chases the birds from one pond to another—the simple act of throwing corn cobs at them. There was one goose, which would not be persuaded to leave the pond. He was at the bird, but to vain. Finally, with determination he bit one of the birds. It merely flapped its wings, and continued to swim. "That certainly proves that the wild geese is not as wild as it is supposed to be," Minor declared.

Many mothers can testify to the virtue of Mother Graves' Worm Expeller, because they know from experience how useful it is.

Veteran "Mountie" Dead

John Stuttaford Member of First Contingent to Reach MacLeod

John Stuttaford, 85, believed to be the last survivor of the first contingent of Royal North West Mounted Police to reach MacLeod in 1873, died there recently after the best part of a lifetime spent in Alberta.

Mr. Stuttaford came to MacLeod with the famous French police expedition, the year before Colonel MacLeod headed his forces into the territories. He lived in MacLeod ever since.

The dead veteran was buried here with full military honors, a unique feature of the ceremonies being that six veterans of the police expedition of 1874 acted as pallbearers.

Germany's Burden Easy

Tax Load of Englishman Is Two Thirds More Than That of a Frenchman

Once more the British will have brought home to them the truth that war is an expensive business. Already the most heavily taxed people in the world, they heard from Winston Churchill that they must pay yet more taxes to meet the annual $250,000,000 and $350,000,000.

Of this tremendous sum, which, it is calculated, means that every Englishman works one day in five for the Government, half goes for debt charges. Of this $120,000,000, more than nine-tenths, goes toward caring for the £7,000,000,000 or £35,000,000,000 the World War cost Britain.

This calls attention to how much more it is costing Britain to liquidate her war expenditures than it is costing Germany. Using dollars for ease of calculation the English Government owes $35,000,000,000 annually. Germany having wiped out her debt, owes the Dawes plan annuities the present total value of which is estimated at $11,000,000,000. Under the maximum annuities she pays $600,000,000 yearly. She pays two-thirds of that amount this year. Thus it will be seen that it is costing German taxpayers about one-third as much as it is costing British taxpayers to care for the war debt.

The French this year appropriate 23,000,000,000 francs, or about $900,000,000. The debt charges are about the same proportion to the budget as the British but less than half on a gold basis. The French war debt cost is 12 per cent. more than the German maximum.

Uncanny Imitation Of Human Voice

English Inventor Makes Organ-pipe Re-Speak Clearly

By the aid of a mechanical reed, his fingers and a bellows operated by foot, an English inventor has succeeded in imitating the human voice to an extent that is uncanny. The reed serves as the vocal organ and the fingers as the tongue and lips. He recently produced the sentence, "Hello, London; are you there?" as clearly as if he were telephoning from New York. It is claimed that the experiment proves that the human voice is largely a mechanical result of muscular and nervous action.

When God gives to us the clearest sight,

He does not touch our eyes with love, but sorrow.

—John Boyle O'Reilly.

We must suffer in ourselves before we can truly love others, and we must suffer greatly before we can love rightly. Why it is so we may not be able to tell until it be that only thus do we gain a thorough knowledge of ourselves. There is in the heart of man a secret chamber where God has put all humanity and Himself; touch the door with the hand of suffering and it flies open and man finds himself one with all others, and God Himself in the midst of them.
